IDENTIFYING YOUR DEVELOPMENT NEEDS

By Damien Roberts

We've now covered the basics in terms of setting targets, ensuring the basic monitoring is in place and we've identified the standards to which we need to adhere. So what's next in terms of our series of insights into staff professional development?

Well, we need to celebrate what's going well and also identify those areas where we could benefit from a little support.

Throughout the staff review process, but particularly during a monitoring event, it's useful to identify "what went well" and also to identify possible areas for improvement.

These areas for improvement may have arisen from a recent lesson observation, learning walk or book/work scrutiny exercise. Alternatively, these areas could have been identified through an interim or mid-year review.

So, how can we help identify the support needed? Click here to read more from our insight.

JOIN US AT THE SCHOOLS & ACADEMIES SHOW

By Damien Roberts

We're delighted to announce that we shall be exhibiting at The Schools & Academies Show at the National Exhibition Centre (NEC) in Birmingham on 17th November 2022. You can find us on stand A37 where our team will be displaying the latest development in school improvement and staff professional development.

We've been a regular exhibitor at The Schools & Academies Show and are pleased to be back with an opportunity to demonstrate how we're helping 700+ schools and colleges to manage their staff appraisal and professional development.
